ANOTHER RAID

Made by the Vladivostok Squadron. Port Arthur Fleet at Large.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The government officials continued confidence in General Kuropatkin's judgment, and in his ability to deal with the momentous situation, but the general public is keyed up in expectation of a great battle and is impatient for news of any sort. The report that a further raid had been made by the Vladivostok squadron arrived too late to be generally circulated. The report tallies with the intimation of the squadron's activity made in the press dispatches June 27.

The tone in both public and official circles has greatly improved. The report that the Port Arthur squadron successfully put to sea, that no ship has actually been sunk, seems to have removed the despondency, and developments on land and sea are looked forward to with increased cheerfulness. Confidence is manifested in the influence the navy will have upon the campaign and many people are inclined to attribute the Japanese precipitancy to get at Kuropatkin to the fact that the squadron at large threatens the Japanese sea communications.

Colorado Exiles. Colorado Springs, Colo., June 30.—A train load of deported men was sent out of Victor with orders to un-load the men at Colorado Springs, but upon the arrival of the train here, Captain Moore, in charge, was met by Chief of Police Reynolds and a force of policemen and ordered to not permit the men to leave the train. The train was held waiting the result of efforts on the part of military and police to arrange for transportation for the men to Palmer Lake or Denver.

Roller Chair Boys Strike. St. Louis, July 5.—About 150 roller chair boys went on strike at the fair grounds. They asked the concessionaire employing them to guarantee them at least $1 a day, but this did not get a satisfactory reply. The boys are paid 15 cents an hour for the hours they work, and there are about 200 on the grounds.

Prohibition Ticket. Indianapolis, Ind., July 1.—The Prohibition party in national convention nominated Silas C. Swallow of Pennsylvania for president and George W. Carroll of Texas for vice president.

The Substitute

BY WILL N. HARBEN

Author of "Abner Daniel," "The North Walk Mystery," Etc.

IN THIS PAPER

The Substitute, by Will N. Harben, the distinguished author's highest achievement and one of the best stories of American life ever written will be printed serially in this paper.

PRaise FROM THE CRITICS

Decidedly original motive and full of quaint folk portrayed with fidelity. A very human story that makes it a picture of real American life.—Brooklyn Eagle.

"I killed a feller jest at the close of the war."

A wholesome, well told story. The plot is fresh, many of the events unfolded come upon the reader as surprises and throughout the story is the rare vigor that results from deep, true knowledge of the region depicted and the mental grasp to project it literary digest.

The Substitute is a better book than Mr. Harben's greatly praised Abner Daniel.—Elis Higginson in the Seattle Times.

A sound, wholesome tale of North Kentucky life with real realism and humor and character. It is as good as Mr. Harben's Abner Daniel and that is saying not a little.—Hamilton W. Mable in The Outlook.

BUNCHED PARAGRAPHS

RELATING TO AFFAIRS IN THIS AND ADJOINING STATES.

Prominent Attorney of Louisville and a Figure in Politics Is Shot and Killed—Woman Attacked by Wildcat—Railway Merger—Other Notes.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—Young Vaughan, who admitted to the detectives that he fired the shot which killed Attorney R. Lee Suter, made a statement contradicting his former announcement in every particular. Vaughan now says he took the blame upon himself to shield another member of the party because he is a married man and prominent in business. Vaughan's case has been transferred to the county court and the detectives are investigating his story.

Three Roads Merged.

Lexington, Ky., July 2.—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad company of Kentucky came into existence with the consolidation of three short lines already controlled by the Chesapeake and Ohio. The roads consolidated are the Lexington and Big Sandy, 185 miles, from Lexington to Catlettsburg and White House; the Maysville and Big Sandy, from Ashland to Covington; and the Covington Short Route Transfer Railway company, one mile, from the Licking river to the bridge in Covington. These short lines were consolidations of still shorter lines brought together two years ago.

Shot by Italians.

Pomeroy, O., July 4.—Great excitement prevails in Pomeroy Bend over the murder of Philip Russell, 12, and the serious wounding of Howard Van Metre, at Cedar Hill mine, near West Columbia, W. Va., by Italians. They were shot by Tom Petta, who is now in jail with four companions at Point Pleasant. A mass meeting of miners at Clifton resolved to prosecute Petta and companions. They also resolved to order away the Italians now guarded at West Columbia. These Italians were imported to take the place of union miners.

Publicly Whipped.

Lexington, Ky., June 29.—In accordance with Police Judge Riley's whipping post decision recently delivered, John West, 14, colored, was given 50 lashes in the public square. His coat was removed and the boy was whipped with a buggy whip in the presence of over 1,000 citizens. Injuring private property was the charge against him. This is the second lad to be publicly whipped. The colored people seemed restive while the punishment was being given and there are threats of a legal test of the decision.

Noted Feudist Killed.

Owingsville, Ky., July 4.—Wade Gregory was shot in Perry county and killed by a man said to be William Brown. The men had been enemies since the Philip Griffin feud war of several years ago. Gregory was shot through the heart and instantly killed. Brown was implicated in the killing of Sheriff Wade Packer in Clay county some time ago, and was recently tried on that charge. Gregory was one of the most noted feudists in the Kentucky mountains. Brown is at liberty.

Sued For Back Taxes.

Louisville, Ky., July 2.—Augustus J. Bizot, revenue agent for Jefferson county, brought suit in the county court against the Illinois Central Railroad company for $3,000.00 back taxes, which, he says, is due on its franchise, valued at somewhere around $50,000,000. In his suit he says the defendant has been a Kentucky corporation since 1892, and during that time has not paid a cent of taxes upon its franchise.

McCorkle For Second Place.

St. Louis, July 4.—The West Virginia delegation sprang a candidate for second place in the person of ex-Governor McCorkle of that state. He was the last Democratic governor of the state and is a delegate-at-large to the convention. His colleagues express the conviction that his selection for second place would render West Virginia safely Democratic in the next election.

Oratorical Contest.

Lexington, Ky., July 2.—The annual intercollegiate oratorical contest was won by James M. Snyder of Jellison, Penn., representing Georgetown college. His subject was "Life and Song." Paul B. Collins of Frankfort, Ky., representing Central university, was second, his subject being "Radiant Energy." Three other Kentucky colleges were represented.

Attacked by a Wildcat.

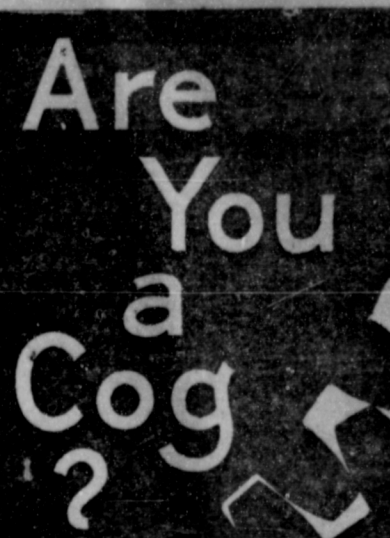

Mt. Sterling, Ky., July 4.—Mrs. Martha Miller, while walking along the pike in Letcher county, was attacked and severely wounded by a wildcat. Her little dog came to her defense and after a desperate battle succeeded in slaying the adversary.

To Be Settled by Ballot.

Shelbyville, Ky., July 2.—Unable to nominate a candidate for congress the Democratic convention of the Eighth district adjourned after adopting a resolution calling for a primary to settle the contest.

Three Girls Killed.

Texarkana, Ark., July 5.—Miss Sybil Pugh, 15; Maud Pillow, 14, and Birdie Bell Pillow, 4, were killed, and four others injured. The party were in a survey when the horse ran away, overturned the survey and dragged it directly in front of a rapidly moving streetcar, which plowed through it. Sybil Pugh died instantly; Maud Pillow had both legs cut off; Birdie Bell Pillow had her skull crushed and brains scattered on the street.

Gentlemen:

When I entered the engineering course in your schools in order to obtain the reference library I sent with it and it gave me pleasure to find that you gave me the same very highly. I have carefully examined the same and find it frequently in my work and find it a very thorough and exact guide to all subjects pertaining to engineering. My judgment is that it is a treatise better adapted to the requirements of the working engineer than anything heretofore published.

Yours truly,

Your Heart

May Be Weak. One Person in Four Has a Weak Heart.

One of the surest signs of a weak heart is shortness of breath after exercise. Your heart is not able to pump the blood fast enough to your lungs. Some of the other symptoms of Heart Trouble are: Pains in the Side, Back and Shoulder; Fainting or Weak Spells; Dry Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Cold Feet or Hands. No one can afford to allow a weak heart to go without medicine, because weak heart means poor circulation, and poor circulation means weak lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, etc. If, therefore, you suspect heart trouble, begin taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The Heart Cure will do you good, as it is a splendid tonic for the blood and nerves, and will revitalize your entire system. Finally, remember, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold under a guarantee that the first bottle will do you good. If it doesn't—your money back.

"I was afflicted with heart trouble for three years. I would be apparently all right, and without a moment's warning would fall as though shot. The attacks were frequent, and a terrible dread possessed me, as I never knew when or where, nor under what conditions I would be attacked, and whether I would survive them. I consulted and was treated by some of the most eminent physicians of the state. Not finding relief from this source, I began taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and began to improve at once. I used ten bottles, which entirely cured me, as I have not had an attack for five years."—MRS. JOHN DREBRACK, Leipsic, O.

WAR CREEK

Stop! Look! Listen! Oh you bloody handed murderers who are taking men's lives which you can never give back because it is appointed unto men to die, and after that the Judgment. If men would only do to others what they would have men do to them there would never be another man killed from ambush. Don't be deceived. God is not mocked. For what so ever a man soweth that shall he also reap. They that have killed a man are in danger of Judgment. The blood which they have shed will be required at their hands. There is mercy now but when mercy is no more and justice takes place what will be the results? According to the testimony of C. S. of war they will be cast into the lake of fire where the worm dieth not and the fire is never quenched.

Litchfield, Ill. July 4.—The Chicago limited on the Wash railroad, due in St. Louis at 7 p. m., and half an hour late, was wrecked inside the city limits here. The injured are being cared for in the St. Francis hospital in this city. Nineteen bodies have been recovered.

The engine, after running into the switch, struck a string of freight cars, and with the first three coaches, was piled into a heap across the track and caught fire immediately. The last car on the train was a special from Wisconsin. It was uncomplected, pushed back and saved.

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, June 20.—Dispatches from Bago, a Brazilian town near the Uruguayan frontier, report that a courier sent by Saravia arrived there with a report of the battle of Tupamaba, Uruguay. The fighting began Wednesday of last week and continued the following day. The government forces had 600 killed and 800 wounded, while the revolutionists suffered 100 killed and 600 wounded. The revolutionists captured a big quantity of war supplies. Another dispatch from Bago says the rear of the revolutionary forces under Mariano Saravia, brother of the leader of the revolutionists, is pursuing the government troops under General Benavente. The revolutionists occupy excellent positions.

Firesmen Overcome.

New York, June 30.—Forty-three firesmen, four of whom will probably die, were overcome by smoke and gas at a fire in the subcellar of the double five-story brick building at 283 Broadway, extending through to Mercer street. Half a hundred employees were driven from the building, and the damage is estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000. Captain Edward Levy and firemen Patrick McKeever, John Wanders and John Riley will probably die from their injuries, while Battalion Chief William Guerin, Lieutenant John H. Link and five firesmen are in a dangerous condition, and 32 others were less seriously injured.

Deported Man Returns.

Telluride, Colo., July 5.—Harry A. Flooten, manager of the People's Supply company store in this city, who has been twice deported by the Citizens' Alliance, supported by the military authorities, has returned. He was not molested. "I am going to stay here and defend myself with my rights," he said. "I have had the best of legal advice and was told to resist on my constitutional rights and to not submit to the tyrannical oppression of the Citizens' Alliance." The only accusation ever brought against Mr. Flooten was that he transacted the financial business of the miners' union.

Row Started by Negroes.

Sharon, Ga., July 5.—At Hillman, where thousands of negroes assemble every Fourth of July, a row was started by two negroes, Ed Billie and Handy Soles. Marshal Sturdevant tried to quiet them, when several other negroes interfered, causing a general riot. Guns, pistols, knives and sticks were used freely. Newton Harris was shot through the stomach and killed outright. His brother, Ned Harris, was cut across the head and seriously injured. Four or five others received severe wounds. The negroes fled.

Another Reduction of Force.

Philadelphia, July 1.—The working force of the Pennsylvania railroad's operating department has been decreased 11 per cent, and all other departments have undergone a 5 per cent reduction. A statement to this effect was officially made at the company's general offices. It was announced that the reduction will be enforced throughout the entire system, both east and west of Pittsburgh. This affects more than 20,000 men, and it is the greatest cut made in years.

IMPROVED TRAIN SERVICE.

Offered by the Henderson Route between Louisville and St. Louis.

VICE.

Commencing Sunday, June 28th, Kentucky's popular line the Henderson Route, will inaugurate a safe and Fast Day service between Louisville and St. Louis in each direction, and will improve the time and equipment generally of all trains between these points.

Three daily trains will be operated in each direction on the following safe schedules between Louisville and St. Louis:

Leave Louisville 8:30 a. m., 9:00 p. m. and 7:00 a. m. Arrive St. Louis 6:16 p. m., 7:20 a. m. and 6:16 p. m.

The equipment is brand new (just from the shops), of the most modern vestibule pattern and is as fine as on any train operating in or out of Kentucky.

The 8:30 a. m. train through without change of cars, will be composed of Pullman Observation Parlor Cars, Free Reclining Chair Cars, Dining Cars and high back seat passenger coaches.

The 9:00 p. m. train through without change of cars, will consist of Pullman Sleeping Cars, Free Reclining Chair Cars and high back seat passenger coaches.

The 7:00 a. m. train will have Parlor Cars, Dining Cars and high back seat passenger coaches.

The Dining Cars on day trains will serve meals a la carte you pay for what you get.

All trains will leave from and arrive in the Seventh Street Union Depot, Louisville, arriving at and departing from the magnificent new Union Station, St. Louis.

In purchasing your tickets to St. Louis or to points west, ask the agent for tickets via Louisville and the Henderson Route. He will have them in stock and will be glad to ticket you that way.

You will be satisfied in every respect with the accommodation and safe train service that is offered by this line, which has been termed the Official Route for Kentuckians.

Lunch Room Cheats.

"There is not much use trying to have restaurant petty cheats arrested," said the manager of a lunch room in the busy downtown district of New York. "It is too much bother to go to court to appear against them, and we never get the money anyway. As a rule, cheats eat only a small amount, less than 50 cents' worth. The head waiter and the waiter have signals by which they can generally size a man up. They know in a minute whether a customer has really come away from the office without his money or is only bluffing.

"But there is one kind of cheat we are all down on, and we'll put him in the cooler overnight every time we catch him. I mean the man who sits at a table, eats 40 or 50 cents' worth of roast or entree and then stops at the bar counter on his way out for a piece of pie and a cup of coffee. When he comes to the cashier's desk he presents nothing but the fifteen cent check for the pie and coffee. The only thing we can do is to make an example of a chap of that kind when we catch him."

A Dog Story.

They were talking about the badinage of dogs, and after each man in the group had cracked up his own the Mount Airy man said: "I have a fox terrier named Troubles who not only seems to understand everything that is said to him, but who even takes in conversation of a general character that isn't addressed to him. One servant girl has been suffering from a bad cold, and the other day, when she went out into the yard to hang up clothes, my wife noticed that the ground was very damp. 'Marry, you ought to have rubbers on out there,' she called from a window. Now, Troubles happened to overhear this remark, and what do you suppose that dog did? He ran to the hall, picked up a rubber shoe, hustled out into the yard and dropped it at the girl's feet. Then he hurried back and repeated the performance with the other shoe. Don't tell me dogs don't understand the English language?" Philadelphia Record.

Who Is To Blame?

We had hoped that our county had passed through its era of lawlessness, bloodshed and murder but when we know that four men have been killed in this county in less than three months, is life as safe in this county as it should be? Who is to blame?

Blind tigers are flourishing in many parts of our county whose owners sell their vile stuff to any one who has the price, without any fear of punishment. who is to blame?

Is it not generally known what the verdict will be in a trial here in our courts as soon as the jury is selected and before the evidence is heard? who is to blame?

Insurance companies have refused to insure property in Jackson for more than a year. who is to blame?

Have we had a fair election in this county since 1898? Men who are elected to offices do not get them. Who is to blame?

On account of the bad conduct of a few men and boys on the train on the 1st of July of last year and on other excursions. The L. & E. Railway Co. did not run any train from here last Monday morning. It will be remembered that on the fourth of July last year a young lady was accidentally shot at Natural Bridge and the people were terrified during the day by a few drunken rowdies. We think the railroad company did right in refusing them transportation.

The lecture will be under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church. The price of admission will be 25c for adults 15c for children ten to fifteen years old. The Milton News has this to say of the lecture: The lecture "The Gun Behind the Man" or "The Kettuckian at Home" by Elder W. L. Buchanan, of Lexington, is indeed a literary gem. It abounds in humor, pathos and description. The speaker describes the Kentucky character in all its phases, limiting it to no particular section.

The Substitute

BY WILL N. HARBEN

Author of "Abner Daniel," "The North Walk Mystery," Etc.

IN THIS PAPER

The Substitute, by Will N. Harben, the distinguished author's highest achievement and one of the best stories of American life ever written will be printed serially in this paper.

PRAISE FROM THE CRITICS

Decidedly original motive and full of quaint folk portrayed with fidelity. A very human story that makes it a picture of real American life.—Brooklyn Eagle.

"I killed a feller jest at the close of the war."

A wholesome, well told story. The plot is fresh, many of the events unfolded come upon the reader as surprises and throughout the story is the racy vigor that results from a deep, true knowledge of the region depicted and the mental grasp to project it.—Literary Digest.

The Substitute is a better book than Mr. Harben's greatly praised Abner Daniel.—Ella Higginson in the Seattle Times.

A sound, wholesome tale of North Georgia life with real raciness and humor and character. It is as good as Mr. Harben's Abner Daniel and that is saying not a little.—Hamilton W. Mable in The Outlook.

Miners Charged With Murder.

Cripple Creek, Colo., July 2.—Murder and inciting riot are the charges preferred against President Charles H. Moyer and Secretary W. D. Haywood of the Western Federation of Miners, and 40 others, as the result of the finding of the coroner's jury which investigated the death of Roscoe McGee and John Davis, who came to their deaths during the riotous Victor on the afternoon of June 6.

Locomotive Boiler Explodes.

Johnstown, Pa., July 1.—A locomotive boiler exploded on the Pennsylvania railroad while going up the mountain 50 yards from Ehrenfeld station, killing three men, injuring two others and one of them fatally. The dead: John W. Smith, engineer; D. C. Cronch, fireman; Walter Jones, lagman. The injured: Conductor Archibald Boyle, can not recover; brakeman J. D. Smith, seriously hurt.

Moyer Removed.

Cripple Creek, Colo., July 5.—Sheriff Edward Heil took Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners to Denver, where he will be permitted to furnish security in the sum of $10,000 in the information charging him with murder and conspiracy to murder in connection with the Victor mine strike on June 6, in which 169 men were killed.

General Kuroki Retires.

St. Petersburg, July 5.—A dispatch from Liao Yang says General Kuroki is about to retire, probably as a result of the rains, which have flooded the rivers and threatened to cut him off from his base of supplies. Nearly all the customary forts are now absolutely impassable.

A fight between Russian torpedo boats and Japanese transports was reported from the Tche Kiao. The result is unknown.

Russ. Guardship Sunk.

Washington, July 4.—The Japanese has received the following cablegram from Tokyo: "Admiral Togo reports that on the night of June 27 the Russian torpedo flotilla attacked and sank the enemy's guardship, with two masts and three funnels outside Port Arthur. The same flotilla then exchanged fire with the enemy's destroyers, one of which was captured and sank. Our casualties were 14 dead and three wounded."

Ran Togo's Blockade.

Newchwang, July 1.—The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Lieutenant Burukoff arrived here from Port Arthur. The general belief here is that she ran Admiral Togo's blockade and came here with dispatches for the army and for St. Petersburg. This is quite natural, as two Cossack officers were on board. The commander of the destroyer reports the destruction of two Japanese torpedo boats.

CHAPTER XV.

It was 2 o'clock when Harkless, dressed in the states to the Her- and olive, and his right arm and hand were resting on the top of the door, and there was nothing in his appearance that should have caused a man to start and fall back from the doorway, but that is what John did. "What's the matter, Mr. Harkless?" cried Ross, hurrying forward with a fear that the other had been suddenly seized by illness.

"What are those?" asked Harkless, with a gesture of his hand that seemed to indicate the entire room.

"Those?" repeated Ross, staring blankly.

his own and looked him between the eyes and thus stood while there was a long pause, the others watching them. "You must not say that I told you," he said at last. "Go into the garden."

But when Harkless' step crunched the garden there was no one there. Aster and roses were in bloom, and their many fingered hands were flung open in wide surprise that he should expect to find young Flisbee there. It was just before sunset. Birds were cawing in the garden on the bank. At the foot of the garden, near the creek, there were some tall hydrangea bushes, flower hidden, and beyond them one broad shaft of sun smote the creek bends for a mile in that flat land and crossed the garden like a bright, taut drawn veil.

Harkless passed the bushes and stepped out into this gold brilliance. Then he uttered a cry and stopped. He was standing beside the hydrangea with both hands pressed to his face and his eyes cast on the ground. She had run away as far as she could run. There were high fences extending down to the creek on each side, and the water was beyond.

"You!" he said. "You! You!"

She did not lift her eyes, but began to move away from him with little backward steps. When she reached the bench on the bank she spoke with a quick intake of breath and in a voice he almost failed to hear, the moor wisp, and her words came so slowly that sometimes minutes separated them. "Can you—will you keep me on the Herd?"

"Keep you?"

"No, I don't understand. Is it you—who are here again?"

"Have you forgotten me? You know now—why I couldn't resign? You forgot my—that telegram?"

"What telegram?"

"The one that came to you—this morning."

"Your telegram?"

"Yes."

"Did you send me one?"

"Yes."

"It did not come to me."

"That—what was it about?"

"It was signed," she said; "it was signed—"

She paused and turned half away, not lifting the downward lashes. Her hand, resting upon the back of the bench, was shaking. She put it behind her. Then her eyes were lifted a little, and, though they did not meet his, she saw them, and a glow sprang into her face. Her voice fell still over two heavy tears rolled down her cheeks. "It was signed," she whispered, "it was signed—H. Flisbee."

He began to tremble from head to foot. There was a long silence. She had turned full away from him. When he spoke his voice was as low as hers, and he spoke as slowly as she had. "You mean—then it was you?"

"Yes."

"Yes?"

"And you—you have—have been here all the time?"

"All—except the week—you were away."

The bright veil that wrapped them was drawn away, and they stood in the open.

"You!" he said. "You!"

He tried to loosen his necktie. It seemed to be choking him. "I—I can't—I don't comprehend it. I am trying to realize that it all means."

"It means nothing," she answered.

"There was an editorial yesterday," he said, "an editorial that I thought was about Rodney McCune. Did you write it?"

"Yes."

and—and— A sob rose in her throat and checked her utterance for a moment, but she threw up her head proudly. "Gratitude, Mr. Harkless," she cried. "I am James Flisbee's daughter."

He fell back on the bench with a sharp exclamation and stared at her through the gray twilight. She went on hurriedly, still not looking at him. "I wanted to do something to show you that I could be ashamed of my father's neglect of him—something to show you his daughter could be grateful—and it has been such dear, happy work, little I have done, that I cannot after all, that I have done it for love of my father."

It was that I had always wanted to do—to earn a living for myself, to live with my father. When I came here, my aunt and uncle were terribly afraid I would stay with him. It was to prevent this that they determined to go abroad, and my father said I must go back to them. Then you were here, and he needed me so much he let me stay. When you—when you told me—she broke off with a strange, fluttering, half inarticulate laugh that was half tears and half merriment in another tone—"when you told me you cared that night—that night of the storm—how could I be sure? It had been only two days, you see, and even if I could have been sure of myself—why, I couldn't have told you. Oh, I had so bravely thrown myself at your feet and again those two days in my—my worship of your goodness to my father—"

He was revealing in his friend the here of his childhood that you had every right to think I cared; but if—

If I had—I had loved you with my whole soul I could not have—no woman could have—I mean the sort of girl I am—couldn't have admitted it—must have denied it. Do you think that then I could have answered 'Yes,' even if I had wanted to—even if I had been sure of myself? And now—"

Her voice sank again to a whisper. "And now—"

"And now?" he said tremulously. She gave a hurried glance from right to left and from left to right, like one in terror seeking a way of escape; she gathered her skirts in her hand as if to run into the garden, but suddenly she turned and ran to him. She threw her arms about his neck and kissed him on the forehead.

When they heard the judge calling from the orchard they went back through the garden toward the house. It was dark. The whitest asters were but gray patches. There was no one in the orchard. Briscoe had come indoors.

"Did you know you are to drive me into town in the phaeton for the fireworks?" she asked.

"Fireworks?"

"Yes. The great Harkless has come home." Even in the darkness he could see the look the vision had given him when the barouche turned into the square. She smiled upon him and said, "All afternoon I was wishing I could have been your mother."

He clasped her hand more tightly. "This wonderful world," he cried. "Yesterday I had a doctor—a doctor to cure me of lovelessness!"

After a time they had proceeded a little nearer the house. "We must hurry," she said. "I am sure they have been waiting for us." This was true; they had.

From the dining room came laughter and hearty voices, and the windows were bright with the light of many lamps. By and by they stood just outside the patch of light that fell from one of the windows.

"Look!" said Helen. "Aren't they good, dear people?"

"The beautiful people!" he answered.

THE END.

THE BRITISH GUINEA.

It is among the things generally known that the guinea obtained as ransom from the gold from which it was made, having been brought from the Guinea coast by the African company of traders. The first notice of this gold was in 1649, during the commonwealth of England, when on the 11th of April of that year the parliament presented to the council of state a paper concerning the guinea.

SEVEN HUNDRED LOST

Danish Steamer Strikes a Reef Off Scotland's Shore.

THE VICTIMS ALL WERE IMMIGRANTS

Less Than Thirty of Those on Board Are Rescued. A Heavy Sea Swamped the 1,400-Ton Steamer. Last Seen on the Coast by the Survivors.

London, July 4.—Over 700 Danish and Norwegian emigrants bound for New York are believed to have been drowned in the North Atlantic on June 23. Out of nearly 800 souls on board the Danish steamer Norge, which left Copenhagen July 22, only 27 are known to be alive, and for the rest no hope is held out. When last seen the Norge was sinking where she struck on the inlet of Rockall, whose isolated peak rises itself from a desolate Atlantic reef some 200 miles off the west coast of Scotland.

Early on the morning of last Tuesday the Norge, which was out on her course in heavy weather, ran onto the Rockall reef, which, in the distance, looks like a ship under full sail. The Norge was quickly beached off, but the heavy seas poured in through a rent in her bows.

The emigrants, who were then awaiting breakfast below, ran on deck. The hatchways were nearly built for these hundreds of souls, and became choked. The Norge quickly began to go down by the head. Eight boats were lowered and into them the women and children were hurriedly put. Six of these boats smashed against the side of the Norge and their helpless inmates were caught up by the heavy seas. Two boats got safely away from the side of the sinking ship, and many of the emigrants who were left on board, seized life belts, threw themselves into the sea and became drowned. Captain Gundel, so say the survivors, stood on the bridge of the doomed vessel until it could be seen no more.

The Norge foundered suddenly, and some 600 terrified emigrants were thrown into the water or drawn down with the sinking ship. Those who could swim tried to reach the boats, but these were already too full and their occupants beat off the drowning emigrants with oars. The boats kept together for some hours. Practically all of their occupants were passengers and were not used to handling such craft. The boat occupied by the survivors landed at Grimsby was a lifeboat. One account says that three boats were successfully launched, the other two holding about 10 persons each. The lifeboat made faster progress and fell in with the Salvia. What became of the other boats is not yet known.

Captain Escaped.

Stornoway, Scotland, July 5.—Captain Gundel and 31 survivors of the Norge, the Danish steamer that foundered after striking the rocks, 230 miles from the Scottish mainland, were landed here by the British steamer Cervonia. Seventy survivors were also taken off the German steamer Energie.

Demand of Filipinos.

St. Louis, July 4.—The delegates from the Philippines have a plank that they will bring before the committee on resolutions. It calls for a more liberal provision for the islands than is called for in the Republican platform. "We will ask for a plank in the platform," said Oscar Sutor, one of the delegates, "providing for a branch of the Philippine legislature similar to that which the house of representatives holds in this country. We want the commissioners to be the higher house, and we want the privilege of electing a lower house for ourselves. This will give the actual residents of the Philippines a greater voice in the government of the islands than they now possess, or is provided for in the Republican platform."

Negroes and Soldiers Clash.

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 2.—William Carpenter, negro, was killed and Walter Jones of Company 12, Eleventh Infantry, was shot through the abdomen near here in West Cheyenne. A dozen negroes, headed by Charles C. Louis, a barber, and his crew, attracted other soldiers. The shooting followed. It was supposed Carpenter fired the shot that wounded Jones and that the latter shot Carpenter. Many negroes and soldiers were arrested. Jones is in a critical condition.

Wife Wins the Reward.

Tolono, O., July 3.—Mrs. McCune, landlady of a rooming house, has been rewarded for information leading to the arrest and conviction of a burglar, Ben L. Landis, and the reward for the Sullivan murder, who was shot through the abdomen near here in West Cheyenne. A dozen negroes, headed by Charles C. Louis, a barber, and his crew, attracted other soldiers. The shooting followed. It was supposed Carpenter fired the shot that wounded Jones and that the latter shot Carpenter. Many negroes and soldiers were arrested. Jones is in a critical condition.

Victim of Drink.

Humboldt, July 3.—Lieutenant Clifford S. Garber of the United States army committed suicide here, hanging himself in the mouth. Garber had been out with some companions. He left the following note: "It's of no use. I can not stop drinking."

Collision With British Cruiser.

Gibraltar, July 2.—The United States dispatch boat Mayflower collided with the British armored cruiser Bacchante while the latter was at anchor. The damage done, if any, has not yet been ascertained.

Hundreds Killed by Tornado.

Monoway, Kan., July 3.—A tornado swept this city, causing enormous damage. Forty-five persons were killed, and 13 injured are being cared for in the hospitals. The village near here in the track of the storm were destroyed. One hundred and fifty deaths are reported there, while 85 persons were hurt. The telegraph system was prostrated and railroad communication is interrupted. Half-tonnes weighing three-quarters of a pound fell during the storm. In one grove of 250 acres only one tree was left standing.

Shelled by Russian Warships. Seoul, Korea, July 1.—Reports received here of the appearance of the Russian Yndivostok squadron off Gensan, on the east coast of Korea, say the warships were first seen at 5:30 o'clock in the morning. Four torpedo boats entered the harbor and sank a small steamer and a junk, while the cruiser examined in detail and shelled the Japanese batteries on shore. At the end of half an hour the Russian withdrew in the midst of a torrential downpour of rain, which prevented the lookouts from noting what direction they took.

NEGRO POPULATION.

What the Final Bulletin of the Statistical Bureau Shows.

Washington, July 2.—The statistics bureau issued the final bulletin on the negro population of the United States, which shows a total of 8,849,789. The report indicates that between 11 and 12 per cent of this population has or is believed by the enumerators to have some degree of the white blood. The center of the negro population is in DeKalb county, Ala., about four miles from the western boundary of Georgia, having moved there from Florida, which was the center of the negroes here, since 1790. More than 77 per cent of the negroes live in the country against more than 57 per cent of the whites. Almost 90 per cent of the negroes in the continental United States are in the southern states, and three-fourths of them are in Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama. Negroes constitute about one-fifth of the city population and about one-seventh of the country population of the continental United States. There was an increase among the negroes of 1,215, 218, or 15 per cent, in continental United States, but the rate of increase declined steadily through the nineteenth century.

Succeeds Cortelyou.

Washington, July 2.—Victor H. Metcalf, former representative from California, was sworn in as secretary of commerce and labor, to succeed George H. Cortelyou, who resigned to become chairman of the national Republican committee. The ceremony occurred at the White House, the oath being administered by Executive Clerk Latta. The president, Secretary Cortelyou and Secretary to the President Lock were present.

Negro Lynched.

Cartersville, Ga., July 2.—John Jones, the negro assailant of Mrs. Baister, was lynched near the scene of his crime. Judge A. W. Price made a speech in an attempt to restrain the crowd of about 200, but it was useless. The negro's body was riddled with bullets, more than 500 shots being fired.

Big Price For Strad.

London, June 30.—A violin by Antonio Stradivarius sold for $2,500. It was once owned by a street musician well known in London. He bought the instrument originally for $6 and sold it after several years use for $125.
